

英语(二)复习资料¹

目录

复习资料说明.....	1
听力.....	2
短对话.....	2
长对话.....	2
段落.....	2
深度阅读.....	3
打赏.....	5

复习资料说明

1. 由于英语(二)考试中的题目部分来自视听说的短对话、长对话、段落，阅读教程，长篇阅读，综合教程上的词汇和句子翻译。本文件集成了阅读教程的答案，视听说的答案。由于词汇和句子翻译是每两年轮一次，而且老师也会给出，因此这里没有给出。
2. 未经作者允许，本文件不得作商业用途。

¹ 作者：死抠，邮箱：489765924@qq.com

听力

1. No less than 14,000 years.
2. All of the above.
3. Performing for the kids.
4. Guiding a blind person.
5. Most of them could get the ball.

短对话

1. She'll go with the man soon.
2. The purse might be in the car.
3. She won't buy the CD.
4. The singer is unattractive.
5. Tom might be in the dorm right now.

1. The work the director has assigned is unreasonable.
2. The movie was awful.
3. The woman is unlikely to become a movie star.
4. Four dollars.
5. The director is not successful.

1. A bride.
2. A mother.
3. A policeman.
4. A professor.
5. A housekeeper.

1. She disagrees that only a few tickets were given out.
2. No one else is as bright as Mary.
3. They were given more cookies than they expected.
4. It is raining unusually hard right now.
5. The interest rates have risen a lot.

1. $125.
2. $5,000.
3. $224.
4. $576.
5. 15,080 miles.

长对话

1. Pop songs.
2. He liked pop songs.
3. They like old folk songs.
4. To lend him a DVD.
5. A person's musical taste may change.

1. He should dance with a girl there.
2. She is not his type.
3. A girl who will satisfy his needs.
4. Throwing out trash.

段落

1. He displayed a gift for music.
2. He could write music.
3. He was able to play all parts in a symphony.
4. A successful musician but a poor businessman.
5. The life of a great musician.

1. He had a very short memory.
2. The most important part but with only one line.
3. Throw the rose to the audience.
4. He said the line with great emotion.
5. Because the actor forgot the rose.

1. He likes to use both suspense and humor in his movies.
2. First the character does not know the truth, but finally learns it.
3. He produced movies that brought fear and excitement to the audience.
4. He was at a French airport.
5. A character read a newspaper with his photo on it.

1. He wants to understand it better.
2. He narrowly escaped death thanks to a few non-Jews.
3. They want to be with their mothers.
4. One.
5. Movie recommendations.

1. cell phones or personal computers.
2. location.
3. a monthly fee.
4. advertising their income.
5. advertising.

1. Shaq is playing basketball while a kid is looking on.
2. Because he wants to ask the kid for the Pepsi.
3. Pepsi has a stronger appeal to the kid than the basketball star does.
4. The football star likes Coke very much.
5. Parking there is not allowed.

1. Supply usually outnumbers demand.
2. Manufacturers advertise their products by sponsoring sporting events.
3. The television.
4. Because people believe what ads say without thinking if the ads are true.
5. The causes, methods and effects of advertising.

1. In many places throughout the world.
2. Preserving their habitat.
3. Non-toxic cleaners.
4. Drinking coffee in your backyard.
5. Ways to protect endangered animals.

1. It used rude language.
2. It got even ruder.
3. Because he was afraid the parrot might die.
4. It had been frightened by the chickens' dead bodies.
5. He put the bird in the refrigerator freezer.

1. All of the above.
2. They pose in front of cameras.
3. A good body shape.
4. Around 34-24-34 inches.
5. Eating disorders.

1. He had a few drinks.
2. He asked Tom to pay his bill.
3. One did not have to pay his bill if he claimed to have paid it.
4. It was easy to cheat the barman.
5. He believed Tom had cheated him.

1. Both A) and B).
2. They are accepted in many places and can be used to buy both large and small items.
3. When you do not have money, you can still buy things.
4. Any of the above.
5. You must pay the interest.

1. Because he carries two large bags over his shoulder.
2. He opens the bags for inspection.
3. He examines the bags closely.
4. Every week for three years.
5. He smuggled bicycles.

1. Pete died in the backyard.
2. He wiped his dirty hands on his clean trousers.
3. He had spent some time weeding in the yard.
4. He had been washing his ladder.
5. Blake Smith was lying because his jeans should not have been clean after he finished painting the porch.

1. He drove through the red light.
2. It was dangerous not to stop at the red light.
3. His mother often shot through the red light safely.
4. Because his mom might be driving through the red light.

5. One should obey the traffic signals for safety's sake.

1. Both cars are damaged, but neither of the drivers is hurt.
2. God has arranged for the man and woman to become friends.
3. God wants the man and woman to drink it to celebrate.
4. Because he believes he's following God's will.
5. The woman makes the man appear to have been driving while drunk.

1. Vietnam.
2. All of the above.
3. He jumped into the pool to save Matthew.
4. Because English was not his native language and he didn't want to learn it.
5. Because his English teacher saved him from drowning, he came to like both water and English.

1. He caught hold of the boat.
2. Whether there were any alligators around.
3. No, not for the past years.
4. Because the sharks killed all of them.
5. A threat was replaced by a bigger threat.

深度阅读

1. What is the passage mainly about? Different greeting customs in the US and France.
2. Which of the following statements is not true? It France people usually greet a family member with a kiss.
3. What does Monique mean by saying "I couldn't find a map of France with different colors to show how many kisses they give in each town."? It is difficult to tell exactly how many kisses people give in each town.
4. Which of the following may explain the sentence "There is some 'grey' area about customs in general." in the last paragraph? The way people greet each other depends on both the region and the individual.
5. Which word in the last paragraph indicates the appropriate attitude we should have when greeting people from other cultures? Mindful.
6. We can infer from the passage that if people do not know difference between greeting customs, there will be misunderstandings.

1. According to the first paragraph, children as an Internet marker have created a growing advertising market.
2. Targeting children for advertising is controversial because children are not ready to evaluate advertisements or information requests.
3. Many advertisers defend the targeting of children by claiming that children understand what an advertisement it trying to do.
4. In the passage the author wants marketers to understand that children must be treated differently when advertising.

1. What does the author mean by saying “We are all just big children”? Everybody is childlike by nature.
2. It can be inferred from the passage that children need to be accepted by their peers.
3. According to the passage, which of the following statements is NOT true? In real life everything is perfectly fair.
4. What does the word “paradigm” (Para. 7) mean? example.
5. According to the author, in the Western world community has taken a back seat to independence because people have tribal instincts.
6. What is the main idea of the passage? People like watching sports is one excellent way to meet our basic needs.

1. The Peace Hotel is run by Jinjiang International.
2. The Peace Hotel was built by an Iraqi immigrant.
3. Which of the following is true of The Peace Hotel? The hotel is one with history.
4. The Peace Hotel hosted the rich and famous from around the world including Charlie Chaplin.
5. Which of the following features is not admired by European tourists? Modernity.
6. After renovation, which style will the hotel retain? The historic original style.

1. It is either Daimler or Benz, but not Cugnot that is regarded as the inventor of the automobile because both Daimler and Benz invented practical gasoline-powered vehicles.
2. The inventor of motorcycle is Nikolaus Otto or Gottlieb Daimler.
3. The Mercedes automobile was designed in 1901.
4. The world's first 4-wheeled automobile was adapted from a stagecoach.
5. All of the following statements are TRUE except the statement that Nikolaus Otto invented a two cylinder, four-stroke engine.

1. How much did the “Model T” cost at the very beginning? $ 850.
2. According to the passage, which buyers of the “Model T” were not mentioned? Lawyers.
3. According to the passage, which of the following things did Henry Ford not do? He became president of the Ford Motor Company three times.
4. In which year was the production of the “Model T” stopped? 1927.
5. According to the passage, which of the following statements is TRUE? Henry Ford made the automobile industry one of the greatest industries.

1. We may find the following ideas in the summary of the student's reports in their email EXCEPT music had no effect on drivers' mood, driving enjoyment and performance while driving.
2. According to the writer, the following statements are correct EXCEPT music actually causes a particular behavior while the listener is driving.
3. In Paragraph 10, Line 8, the expression of “highway hypnosis” may mean you may feel sleepy and cannot focus on your driving.
4. According to the writer's own experiences, the idea that distractions are never needed in quiet driving situations.

5. Bases on the writer's research about music and driving, he is very likely to keep on listening to different music while driving in different situations.

1. Which of the following is the reason that American adults take food supplements? To improve some part of their health.
2. Which of the following is not among the more popular food supplements? Glucose.
3. What is a healthy diet according to the passage? A diet low in fat and sugar and rich in plant foods.
4. How do you know if your diet is healthy? Check the Food Guide Pyramid.
5. What can ruin your appetite or cause other eating problems according to the passage? A sad event.
6. Which of the following belongs to a healthy diet? Oats.

1. The word “undermine” most probably means weaken.
2. “The boss is a jerk.” (Para 3) is used here to show how pessimists think about the unhappy things around them.
3. The example given about a young wife shows that pessimists are used to thinking of everything negatively.
4. Which of the following statements is TRUE of “my father”? He did not like to take any preventive measures.
5. It can be inferred from the passage that Seligman should be a psychologist.

1. The first two paragraphs serve as a(n) introduction of the article.
2. The purpose of the article is to educate people on what depression is and more importantly, how to deal with it.
3. In the article, the author talks about several kinds of depression, EXCEPT Milder Depression.
4. Paragraph four to six are organized by general to specific order.
5. The purpose for the last section “you can make it” is to provide practical solutions to depressed people and encourage them to seek help if it is possible.
6. Where is it least likely for you to find this article? Entertainment magazines.

1. On hearing “the Blue Danube”, the author all of the above.
2. According to the article, the waltz originated as an Austrian peasant dance.
3. According to the article, Strauss' music is characterized as all of the following except demanding.
4. The word “they” in the second to last paragraph refers to operettas.
5. According to the article, what contribution did Strauss make via music? Both A and B.

1. The system is going to be used in the following matches except France vs. Scotland.
2. Which organization proposes the application of this system? UEFA Referees Committee.
3. This system could be helpful in situations such as the identity of a cautioned player.
4. UEFA is very likely to make use of technology in the following week only when it has no incidence on the fluidity of play.

5. The writer's attitude toward the application of technology in sports is neutral.

1. Advocates of virtual visitation have the following reasons except to substitute for a real visitation.

2. The critics against virtual visitation worry that a virtual visit may replace the real visitation.

3. The following statements are true except that U.S. passed its law to support the virtual visitation.

4. Which state made virtual visitation an official option in 2004? Utah.

5. What will be the purpose of Gough in his future work? He will work to get other states to pass laws in favor of virtual visit.

1. In the first paragraph, what does the last sentence probably mean? Morse code is almost useless.

2. In the second paragraph, the first sentence probably means we should not totally rely on Internet or similar modern communications.

3. The following events are mentioned as the cause for the communications blackout except some hackers may make the Internet paralyzed with virus.

4. In theory, the global Internet is highly resistant to catastrophic failure. But why do they still have occasional failure? Because the intercontinental cable systems often lack costly parallel backup circuits.

5. What is the solution given from the writer when a sudden blackout of the Internet occurred again? To hold that Morse code guide handy as the substitute to the Internet.

1. The examinations watchdog may be an organization which functions to deal with student's examinations.

2. There were 1100 students who smuggled mobile phones into the examinations.

3. You will not be penalized if you do not take mobile phones into examinations.

4. According to Ken Boston, what is the method they are using now to solve the problem of cheating by mobile phone? Ask schools to urge students not to take mobile phones into examinations.

1. What is China's Super Girl contest like? An artistic contest for those who want to be artists.

2. What does the champion usually get after she wins the Super Girl contest? An opportunity for her future success as an artist.

3. What is the attitude of the writer towards the Super Girl contest? Neutral.

4. It seems the reason for the China's young women's eager participation in the Super Girl contest can be all of the following EXCEPT the love of entertainment industry.

5. According to the passage, the following statements are true EXCEPT the contestant must get his or her parents permission before entering the contest.

1. According to the passage, the girls who refuse to model themselves are those who have quite high body esteem.

2. We can infer from the passage that in the 1960s, people saw skinny models only occasionally.

3. According to the passage, only when pop culture changes its focus can we change the idolization of models, stars and other celebrities.

4. In paragraph 5, the word "iron" in the expression of "Twiggy, the 1960s fashion icon" probably means a sign which can remind people of significance.

5. The idolization of thin models can lead to all of the following problems except that the media represent women of all sizes.

1. According to the passage, the denial to age is essentially a kind of denial to the aged people's dignity and value.

2. Voluntary euthanasia in Western societies may be attributed to the judgment that the life of the patient is no longer worthwhile.

3. The writer gives us the following reasons for the need to love the elderly except we should learn to accept debility and dependence as ways to spiritual transformation.

4. We can infer from the passage the writer supports the idea of the Christian past about the respect for the elderly.

5. Based on the passage, we may infer that the writer would disapprove all of of the following except the love of the frail elderly.

打赏

(如果你觉得我对你有帮助, 不妨给瓶可乐喝吧)

