作文

For this part, you are allowed 30 minutes to write a short essay. You should start your essay with the topic of helping the seniors and then express your views on whether we should give a hand to the seniors who slipped down. You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words.

On Helping the Seniors

The cartoon is ironic and instructive: an old man has slipped down while many passers-by are standing by, not helping, because they are afraid of being framed as the wrecker. It reveals a heated issue in recent days that whether we should give a hand to a slipped senior. To my mind, we definitely should help the old people.

Although several warm-hearted people who help the old are blackmailed, we shouldn't be once bitten, twice shy". In terms of social moral, we have the responsibility to respect and take care of the old. It is also our traditional virtue to help others. Thus, we need to spread positive energy to improve social conducts. In addition, self-protection is also necessary. Before helping others, we can ask the police or relevant people to help together in order to avoid ourselves from being plunged into trouble.

In conclusion, we should have love and sympathy for the old and give them help on the condition of self-protection.

An Opening Speech

Ladies and Gentlemen,

Good morning! I am Li Ming. It's my great honor to be the spokesman of the Students' Union to extend our heartfelt welcome to all of you. As the important organizer of the 18th sports meeting, we have been busy preparing for two months and looking forward to the opening ceremony.

At the happy moment, we are more than glad to see so many people join this significant activity. We are very grateful to the college leaders and faculty members who have given us enormous help. Special thanks also go to our schoolmates for their enthusiastic participation. Sports can not only help us build a strong body, but also promote friendship. I hope everyone can enjoy the excitement and happiness through sports.

At last, let's give best wishes to this sports meeting. Wish it a great success and good luck to all of the athletes and spectators.

For this part, you are allowed 30 minutes to write a short essay commenting on the remark "The early bird catches the worm". You can cite examples to illustrate your point. You write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words.

The Early Bird Catches the Worm

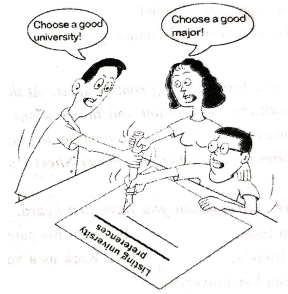

"The early bird catches the worm" is a proverb which all of us are familiar with. I fully agree with it, and in my mind, the proverb can be justified in three respects.

First, it takes time to accomplish a task—if you act earlier, you are more likely to reach your goal earlier. Otherwise you can never be sure of your success. Second, when diligence becomes a habit, nothing will be too difficult for a persevering person. For example, you will never feel bored or tired with doing social investigation if you really love it and are determined to do it well. Third, looking at the matter from another perspective, we will find that social resources are always limited and opportunities are always reserved for those who prepare well.

As people are almost equally smart, diligence seems more than necessary for a person who aims to succeed. Besides, competition becomes more and more fierce in modern society, so we should realize it is important to begin earlier.

For this part, you are allowed 30 minutes to write an essay based on the picture below. You should start your essay with a brief description of the picture and then explain whether to choose a good university or a good major when it comes to listing university preferences. You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words.

Choosing a Good University or a Good Major?

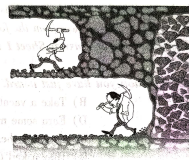

As is shown in the picture, there is a hot debate between the father and mother over the topic of whether to choose a good university or a good major. In fact, there are both advantage and disadvantage of choosing a good university or a good major, and people should be prudent when listing university preferences.

It is true that graduates from top universities are more popular in the labor markets. But even the best university has unpopular majors, which means graduates from these majors could be less competitive in many aspects. On the contrary, maybe you are studying in a common university, but if your major is very hot or is exclusive to only several universities, you will surely be especially competitive in the real world.

To sum up, when listing university preferences, do not simply focus on the name of a university or a major. It is wiser to take more factors into consideration and choose the one that is most suitable for you.

For this part, you are allowed 30 minutes to write a short essay. You should start your essay with a brief description of the picture and then express your views on success and persistence. a You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words. Write your essay on Answer Sheet 1.

In fact, we are close to success.

Persistence Leads to Success

In the picture, two miners are featured: the one on the top is digging his way into a mine, full of diamonds; the one in the bottom is gloomily giving up his efforts, just few inches away from the treasure.

The message implied in this picture is about the secret to success: persistence. Had the man in the bottom persist in his efforts a little bit longer, he would be able to claim the enormous wealth.

What's true of the miner is also true of most people. When most people encounter challenges, they feel helpless and quit trying right after the first few attempts. In fact, they may be close to success and what they need is perseverance, the quality of never giving up. Take J. K. Rowling as an example. She was very poor when she was composing Harry Potter, but she did not give up. Her persistence finally rewards her with fame and wealth.

In conclusion, we must persist in our efforts when we are on our way to success.

For this part, you are allowed 30 minutes to write a short essay entitled There Is No End to Learning by commenting on the famous saying, Education is not complete with graduation. " You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words. Write your essay on Answer Sheet 1.

There Is No End to Learning

A large number of people tend to live under the illusion that they had completed their education when they graduate from their schools. Obviously, they fail to take into account the basic fact that there is no end to learning.

First of all, it is universally accepted that no college or university can educate its students by the time they graduate. Even the best possible graduate needs to continue learning before he or she becomes an educated person. Furthermore, as a famous saying goes, education is not complete with graduation. A college degree can never ensure long-term job success. Maintaining success in a job depends on education after graduation. Most importantly, learning is rewarding both materially and spiritually by enriching our life and perfecting our personality.

In a word, learning is an invaluable career worth our life-long pursuit. No one should be content with just high school or college education.

For this part, you are allowed 30 minutes to write a short essay on the following statement. You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words. Suppose a freshman asks you about the campus life, describe it to him/her and give your suggestions.

On Campus Life

Campus life is colorful and full of fun as long as you have great ability of self-management and self-control.

Campus is a large stage for all freshmen to show yourselves because there are various kinds of activities awaiting you to attend. Thrilling parties such as freshman initiation party offer you valuable chances to show your talents, enjoy yourselves and make new friends. Volunteering service, a worthy choice to serve people, gives you sense of achievement and happiness. With many English lovers and foreigners, English corner is a good place for you to practice your oral English.

Being immersed in these exciting activities you might be a little at sea. Actually you need not participate in all of them. Self-management and self-control is necessary in college. It is wise to make a plan that fits your personality, interest and future development and follow it strictly. Do not be bothered by trivial things or distracted by online games which are nothing but a waste of time.

If you can follow the suggestions above, you are bound to get the most out of your campus life.

For this part, you are allowed 30 minutes to write a short essay on the following question. You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words. Suppose you could travel in time, what time period would you like to travel to and why?

Travelling to the Ming Dynasty

If I can travel in time, I'd like to go to the Ming Dynasty.

My desire to go to the Ming Dynasty mainly owes to the book series The Events of the Ming Dynasty written by an amateur historian whose pen name is Dangnian Mingyue. It is an intriguing book that depicts the rise and fall of the Ming Dynasty. I want to travel to the Ming Dynasty to see those events with my own eyes. Besides, if chances are given, I'd like to talk with the great philosopher Wang Yangming, the Prime Minister Zhang Juzheng and other historical figures that interest me. I want to know how they conceived those philosophical thoughts that even influence the thinking of men today.

Based on the above reasons, I wish to travel to the Ming Dynasty. If my dream comes true, I believe it will be a fascinating journey!

For this part, you are allowed 30 minutes to write a short essay on the following question. You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words. Suppose you could change one important thing about your campus, what would you change and why?

One Thing to Change about My Campus

If given a chance to change one important thing about my campus, I think I will improve the dining environment.

At present, the school cafeteria is obsessed with the following problems. To begin with, it is always crowded with people during the opening hours, especially from 12:00 am to 12:30 am and from 5:00 pm to 5:30 pm when the class is over. Students need to queue in long lines. Secondly, when some students choose to dine at a later hour, the food is not as warm as it is in the opening hours.

Given the above problems, I want to make the following changes. The cafeteria could prolong its opening hours so that students needn't bother about the crowd and the noise. Besides, they could come up with some measures to keep food warm, such as providing a microwave oven to warm up the food.

For this part, you are allowed 30 minutes to write a short essay. You should start your essay with a brief description of the picture and then express your views on shopping online. You should write at least 120 words but no more than 180 words.

Shopping Online

The picture above shows that a girl is shopping online and the goods will be delivered to her quickly. Nowadays many people are keen on shopping online. But people hold different views on shopping online. Some claim that it has many benefits, while others suggest that it does more harm than good. As for me, I believe both views have their merits.

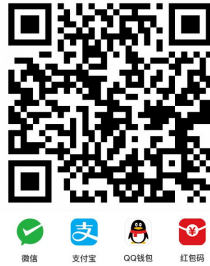

On the one hand, shopping online brings convenience to our life. We can select and buy almost everything online without leaving home, so that much time can be saved. What's more, shopping online can break the geographic limitations and we can buy products online from all over the world. On the other hand, it still has some negative factors. First, we know products merely through pictures and descriptions, thus whether the products are suitable or not can't be identified directly. Second, the quality of products can't be guaranteed. Furthermore, online payment has many potential risks.

In short, every coin has two sides. Thus we should be cautious and careful when shopping online.
